Albany Oct 24. 1835.

Dear Wife

Lest you should hear some frightful stories from Utica, I just drop you a line to say that nobody was hurt – our Convention met, organized, adopted a constitution & declaration of sentiment, before the Mob came, when we adjourned & met the next day at Peterboro & had a quick & delightful meeting. The convention was probably the largest ever held on any subject in America – we got the names, (notwithstanding the confusion) of more than 500 – My health is good – shall be with you by the last of the next week – Yours affectionate husband
